Josh Della Puca’s Two Late Goals Carry Undefeated Pleasantville to a Comeback Win vs. Irvington
Panthers Edge Irvington on Della Puca’s Two Late Goals

By Monica D’Ippolito

Coming off of an epic victory over Bronxville, the team that barely defeated Pleasantville in the sectional final a year ago, the Panthers had a difficult task of refocusing and playing a non-ranked Irvington squad at home Thursday.

“We talked about it in practice, we said you can’t live off that one win,” Pleasantville coach Chris Kear said. “You have to be prepared for any given game, any given day. The kids knew they had to come out hard because Irvington always played them hard.”

With their undefeated record on the line, the Panthers were staring at a 5-4 deficit heading into the final 12 minutes of the contest. Senior Josh Della Puca wasn’t having the most productive game of his varsity career, but he stepped up when he needed to, putting in the equalizer and the eventual game-winner as the Panthers escaped with a 6-5 victory.

“That’s the thing about good players,” Kear said. “We asked him to step up today. We said, ‘You have to make a play down the stretch,’ and he knew being a captain, being a senior, being a good player, he had to step up and make a play for his team and did.”

Della Puca netted the game’s first goal at the 5:45 mark of the first quarter, which was followed by a Bryan Arcidiacono goal less than a minute later, giving the Panthers a 2-0 advantage. Lucas Cohen added another score with 1:21 left in the period to stretch the lead to three goals. But the Bulldogs got one back on a goal by Dillon Morley with 46 seconds remaining.

The second quarter was at a stalemate until Irvington’s Carson Carrito dodged a few Panthers en route to a second Bulldog goal, cutting the deficit to just one. Kear called a timeout shortly after, trying to calm his players down.

It was evident Pleasantville was frustrated with its performance, expecting to dominate a lesser Irvington team. But the Bulldogs played physically, hitting the Panthers hard.

“I was hounding on the refs and my own teammates,” Della Puca said after the game. “I sort of knew I could step up and make a play for his team and did.”

Declan McDermott tied the game with a fluke goal just three minutes to the third quarter. Defenseman Andrew Lambiosi made the extra pass to Jake Starpoli along the left side of the crease. Starpoli placed the ball past Oscar Marchi, giving the Bulldogs a 5-4 lead.

But that was the last lead Irvington held.

The two teams combined for nine shots on net before Della Puca stepped up with just 3:37 remaining. Cohen made a nice pass inside to the senior, who made one head fake and ripped a shot past Shultz, knotting the game up one last time.

Just 50 seconds later, Pleasantville ran an isolation play for Della Puca on the right side. Irvington made the mistake of not doubling early, leading to a one-on-one in favor of Della Puca. The senior took his opportunity, dodged his defender and capped off the Panther comeback, finalizing the 6-5 score.

“It’s huge,” Della Puca finished with three goals and an assist for the Panthers, while Cohen ended with two goals and an assist.

“Shultz was the main reason the score was so tight, stopping 14 of 34 Panther shots on net.”

“Those goalie was fantastic,” Kear said of Shultz. “I think the goalie had some great saves, but we also took some long-range shots when we knew we were trying to work it in closer and we sort of played right into their hands in a zone.”

With 13 seconds left in the period, Nick Lambiosi made the extra pass to Jack Howe, who was left open man, Mike Hammond, who was lost earlier in the week with a broken collarbone.

“He was winning about 60 to 65 percent of his face-offs, and right now he’s taking on a coach role, mentoring our sophomore, Nolan McAndrew,” Kear said. “I thought Nolan did a pretty good job today in his place. But, yeah, Mike does more than just face off. He’s not just a face-off guy, he plays defense, he plays offense. So I mean that’s going to be a huge blow to our team. This happened last Monday, so we’ve all sort of been rallying together to try and pick up the slack for Mike.”

Although the Panthers continued their winning ways, they will have to play the rest of the season without starting face-off man, Mike Hammond, who was lost earlier in the week with a broken collarbone.

“When coach said, ‘it was a trap game,’ I was sort of knew I could take him (the Irvington defender on the game-winning goal) in the beginning. I just went around… I was just, like, thank god I just did that because if I missed the coaches would have killed me. Same with all my teammates.”

Della Puca added. “So if we really didn’t win, like Coach said, it was a trap game, “Della Puca said. “I think the goalie had some great saves, but we also took some long-range shots when we knew we were trying to work it in closer and we sort of played right into their hands in a zone.”

“It’s huge,” Brian Reda actually told me after the third quarter to put the team on my back and I had to listen to him,” Della Puca said. “I sort of knew I could take him (the Irvington defender on the game-winning goal) in the beginning. I just went around… I was just, like, thank god I just did that because if I missed the coaches would have killed me. Same with all my teammates.”

Della Puca finished with three goals and an assist for the Panthers, while Cohen ended with two goals and an assist.

“It’s huge because after the Bronxville win, like Coach said, it was a trap game,” Della Puca added. “So if we really didn’t win this game, it would have been a huge blow for the whole entire season. So we’re glad we got this W.”

A Big Inning Carries the Quakers to a Victory at Fox Lane

By Andy Jacobs

With his Fox Lane baseball team currently in the midst of a losing streak longer than any he can recall, just about the last thing Matt Hillis needed on Saturday afternoon was some more bad news.

But it came anyway, shortly before the Foxes were set to host Horace Greeley on a sunny and spectacular spring day when his starting pitcher informed him he couldn’t take the mound to face the Quakers.

Greeley took full advantage, getting home runs from Mack Lauder and Chris DiGuglielmo during a lengthy, nine-run third inning that left the reeling Foxes playing from way behind the rest of the day. The Quakers emerged with a 13-3 victory, their second big win over Fox Lane in four days.

“Unfortunately,” Hillis would share later, “before the game even started, Aaron Winkler said that he wasn’t gonna be able to go today and that he was feeling some tightness in his arm. So basically what we did was we rallied all the pitchers who don’t have a whole lot of length in them yet as far as starts. We said, ‘you know what, just go out there, don’t pace yourselves, try to give us two to three innings as hard as you can.’”

For a while, the improvising worked as the Foxes, trying to put an end to a three-game losing skid, got two shutout innings from starter Robert Lichtenberger while their offense erupted for three runs in the bottom of the first inning. Leadoff batter Julian Francisco belted a double to the fence in left, putting two runners in scoring position. The Foxes’ second run scored on a Chris Stern grounder to short, and then a base hit by Ryan Cohen brought in two more runs with a double to the 369-foot sign in right-center field.

Andrew Workman followed with a booming double that nearly cleared the fence in left, putting two runners in scoring position. The Foxes’ second run scored on a Chris Stern grounder to short, and then Will Cohen brought home Workman with an infield single.

But Lichtenberger, who stranded a Greeley runner in each of the first two innings, was not as fortunate in the third. Josh Small singled with one out and Mack Lauder followed with a two-run homer that moved the Quakers to within 3-2.

According to Greeley coach Anthony Marino, if the inning had ended right there with the Foxes still ahead he wouldn’t have been upset.

“You know what, I was just happy we scored the two runs back,” he said. “Just to get those two was great and everything else on top of that was like a bonus. That was fantastic!”

Regrettably for the Foxes, the Quakers were far from finished in the third. Bobby Garbuio walked, then stole second. Lichtenberger seemingly was almost out of trouble when he struck out Adam Quine, but freshman catcher Henry Davis couldn’t handle the pitch, enabling Quine to reach base.

Hillis turned to Alex Olsen in relief and the junior right-hander walked Quinn Carter to load the bases. DiGuglielmo then sent an Olsen offering high over the fence in left-center for a grand slam that gave the Quakers the lead for good.

Schachter wound up with eight strikeouts, including two in the final inning. When he got Will Wortmann looking to end the game, the Fox second baseman flung his bat away in frustration, earning a post-game ejection.

“It is obviously extremely unpleasant right now and not fun for anybody,” said Hillis about the Foxes’ recent funk. “How do we get out of it? That’s a great question. I’ll tell you what, if you come up with the answer let me know. It’s gonna be gut check time. We’ve actually said that now for a couple of games. We just haven’t done it.”

Meanwhile, the Quakers’ Marino has his team off to a 5-1 start so far this season and can’t help noticing a change in the air, the kind that allows for a comeback from an early 3-0 deficit.

“Years ago, it seemed like that would open the floodgates and people would drop their shoulders, drop their heads and sulk,” he said. “But, hopefully, this is a new attitude of a new team of a new year. It’s great to see them playing good baseball and having confidence in themselves.”
Fox Lane Runs Past the Quakers in the Second Half

By Monica D’Ippolito

A back-and-forth matchup in the first half became a scoring binge for Fox Lane in the second, as the Foxes got the best of nearby rival Horace Greeley on Wednesday afternoon.

"It is definitely a big rivalry," Fox Lane’s Bridget Connors said after the 13-6 Fox win. "I also have a lot of my friends on the team, and knowing that I got to beat them gives me a little bragging rights. It feels great. A big win always makes you feel good about yourself and knowing that you did the best you could during the game."

The visiting Foxes dominated on the circle throughout the game and came up with the majority of possessions, but in the first half Greeley goalie Megan Conroy dazzled, making seven of her 10 saves and allowing her teammates to feed off her momentum and grab the lead.

"We had a great first half from her and we were hoping to build off of that in the second half," Greeley coach Annamarie Marasco said of Conroy. "She kept us in the game. The score should have been even higher."

The Quakers’ Izzie Gutenplan claimed the game’s first goal at the 21:36 mark, with Anna Waterhouse assisting on the goal by making the extra pass from a free position.

Less than a minute later, Alison Moky responded with a goal for Fox Lane, avoiding a mass of Quaker defenders and placing her shot past Conroy.

The score was tied two more times, first by the Quakers’ Emma Lowry at the 19:15 mark, then by the Foxes’ Lindsay West with 12:14 remaining. West made good on a pass from Catherine Schreiber, dodging a defender and putting the ball in the goal to tie the contest at 3-3.

The Quakers then regained the lead when Waterhouse cleaned up her own rebound and placed her shot past Fox Lane’s Halie Vernon at the 5:35 mark. Then, with 37 seconds left in the half, Megan Graham zipped a shot over Vernon’s left shoulder off a free position, giving Greeley a 5-3 lead.

On the ensuing draw, the Quakers won possession but were called for a ward while transitioning to the offensive end. The turnover led to the Foxes rushing down the field, where Connors put in a goal with just 20 seconds to spare, cutting the Horace Greeley lead to just one entering halftime.

"I already talked to her in the beginning of how she responded," Marasco said. "But you know what, so what, we were down by one goal. We still could have come back. It’s a game where, as you can see, you can score a lot of goals."

It didn’t take long for the Foxes to build off the Connors score, as they gained possession once again off the opening second-half draw, leading to a Schreiber goal off a nice feed from Brooke Shepard, knotting the game at 5-all.

"I think that first goal that I actually scored, that was the momentum changer for me and probably for the team," Connors said of her last-second score.

The Foxes’ Keeley Connors passes the ball during last Wednesday’s game vs. Horace Greeley.

"Knowing that we have to beat this team, knowing that last year we lost to them and it was the first time in seven years and we definitely needed this win this time to put them back in their place."

Fox Lane continued to dominate the second half, scoring seven unanswered goals while maintaining quality possessions throughout.

"They made their own adjustments," Fox Lane coach Bill Broggy said. "We do a good job of respecting possessions. Just keep shooting and it’ll come. So score the ball."

Lowrey broke up the Foxes’ big run with 2:10 left in the contest, notching the Quakers’ only goal of the second half and concluding the afternoon’s scoring.

West led the Foxes with five goals. Connors ended the day with three goals and one assist, while Schreiber finished with one goal and four assists. Lowrey and Gutenplan each had two goals for the Quakers.

Connors not only scored what may have been the most important goal of the game, but also did an excellent job working on the circle, which helped the Foxes win 15 draw possessions versus just four for the Quakers.

"Well, in the first half we took advantage (of the draw controls), but the goalie just made some good saves," Broggy said. "We had eight shots that she made saves on. Usually you hope to score on half, so that’s four goals right there. Bridget Connors, we’ve moved to that spot this week. We thought we needed another taller, powerful girl on the circle and she did a great job. She got a gazillion of them. We needed to get some more length and some more explosiveness on the circle. She got a ton of them, so I was real proud of how she responded."

In the first-ever Mt. Pleasant Cup girls’ lacrosse championship game, the old rivalry between Briarcliff and Pleasantville turned into a classic matchup.

The two teams traded lead changes seven separate times Saturday afternoon at Valhalla High School, but in the end the Bears were able to come away with a 15-13 victory to remain undefeated so far this season.

“This is the biggest game of the year, we’re playing Pleasantville, it’s our first in-league game,” said Briarcliff’s Jordana Cohen afterwards, noting that she and her teammates were spurred on by their halftime chat. “We just needed motivation and our coach was just like, ‘Who wants it more?’ And we said we did.”

Despite outshooting the Bears 29-21 and winning the majority of draw controls 16-11, Pleasantville (2-3) wasn’t quite able to put the ball in the back of the net enough times to take control at the end of the game.

“I know we were anxious to score because it was a back-and-forth game and our shot selection wasn’t the best, but their goalie (Elizabeth Kreppel) came up really big for them today,” Panthers coach Allison Steinberg said. “I think we started to get tired. We had a really contentious game that went late (Friday) against Pearl River and I think we just got outplayed.”

Coming into the contest, the Bears’ Cohen was just one goal shy of reaching her 100th goal for the season.

“I mean, this is pretty big,” Cohen said. “I’ve been playing on varsity since my freshman year and this is my 100th goal. It’s amazing.”

“She is a great player,” first-year Bears coach Jess McDonough said of Cohen. “I think it’s good to see a middie be able to get her 100th goal, and she does a lot more than score goals for us. So I’m just really happy with her and very proud of her.”

After the quick Cohen goal, Kate Manganello added Briarcliff’s second goal nearly a minute and a half later. But Pleasantville tied up the score with goals from Kathryn Finnegan and Nicole DiFabio.

DiFabio would tie the game two more times in the opening half. At the 11:11 mark, the junior attacker dodged her defender and netted her second goal, tying the game at 4-4. Then, with 9:33 remaining, she made good on a free position from the right- hash mark, tying the game up at 5-5.

“Just taking a breath, throwing and catching, taking an extra second and making sure our passes were on, and moving to the ball,”

Briarcliff opened up the second half with back-to-back goals from Cohen and Lexi Grasso, but Pleasantville quickly tied the game once again with goals from the Panthers, who still continued to battle back in the final three minutes. But Briarcliff held the ball and ate up enough time on the clock, limiting Pleasantville’s chances to score.

“I don’t think we’ve won a tournament in the past 10 years or so, so it’s really unbelievable that we’ve been able to come this far,” Cohen said. “Especially in a new tournament with our new coach, it’s really crazy how far she’s gotten us so far this season.”

Ricciardi finished with five goals and Cohen ended up with four goals and one assist for the Bears, while DiFabio recorded four goals and Nancy Howe totaled three for Pleasantville in the loss.

“I think we played an unbelievable game against Pleasantville,” said Cohen. “They’re our biggest rivals. They’re a very, very aggressive team and I really think we pulled through.”

Cohen, along with DiFabio, Howe, Schmidt, Levy and Grasso were each named to the all-tournament team, while Kreppel, who made 12 important saves, was selected as the MVP.

“It’s awesome,” McDonough said after her team improved to 5-0 with the victory. “It’s our first league win, and it’s great to be first place in the first-ever tournament. So it’s good win overall.”

A DiFabio score at the 17:13 mark gave the Panthers their first lead of the second half. She chased an initial P’ville shot and was given possession behind the net. As soon as the whistle blew, she rolled the crease and ripped a shot past Briarcliff’s Kreppel.

McDonough called a timeout after the ensuing draw, which led to a game-tying goal by Cohen with 16:36 left.

Howe assisted on a Peyton Long goal that gave Pleasantville back the lead, but Cohen soon continued her dominance on the offensive end, netting her third tally of the game.

The game was tied one last time, 11-11, when Jordan Ricciardi picked up a ground ball and placed it past Pleasantville goalie Tess McFadden. Briarcliff then added three more goals in succession to finally gain the upper hand. Grasso, Cohen and Manganello all found the back of the net to give the Bears a 14-11 lead.

Byram Hills Names Rye Administrator New Athletic Director

By Martin Wilbur

The Byram Hills School District announced last Tuesday night that it has hired Rob Castagna of the Rye City School District to be its new athletic director.

Castagna, a Ridgefield, Conn. resident who was surrounded by his family for the announcement at the Apr. 14 Byram Hills Board of Education meeting, will take over for longtime Director of Athletics, Physical Education and Health Education Michael Gulino effective July 1.

“I’m grateful for the opportunity,” Castagna said moments after the board approved his appointment. “I’m proud to bring my talents to the community, put my best foot forward and get to work.”

Castagna, who earned his bachelor’s degree in education from Iona, has worked in Rye for the past 21 years, the last 12 of those as director of health, physical education and athletics. Prior to assuming the administration post, he was a health and physical education teacher. For the first five years of his career, Castagna taught in the Malverne Union Free School District on Long Island.

Board of Education President Ira Schulman called the hiring of Castagna “a coup” for Byram Hills.

“I think it’s going to be wonderful for us,” Schulman said. “I hope it will be wonderful for you.”
